Step 6 – The movie has loaded below and can be seen for you to view.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `psychotherapy.net/stream/chc/video?vid=053`. The page header includes the psychotherapy.net logo and the text "great therapists never stop learning". The page title is "Chestnut Hill College" with an "Admin Login" link. A navigation bar contains "My Video Library" and "Help Center" buttons, and a search bar. Below this is a menu with options: "By Approach", "By Therapeutic Issue", "By Expert", "By Population", and "All Titles". The main content area features a grey banner with the text "WATCH: CLASSROOM INTERVENTIONS FOR ADHD" and "by George J. DuPaul, Gary Stoner". A red arrow points from the text in the instruction above to the video player. The video player shows a scene with children in a classroom. Below the video is a search bar for the transcript and a snippet of text: "GARY STONER COMMENTARY Todd, nine years old, and a third grader at Sheridan Elementary School in Allentown, Pennsylvania, has great difficulty paying attention and following instructions in class. He is easily distracted, especially during independent work periods, and routinely has trouble completing his assignments. He often becomes disruptive, gets out of his seat, and calls out in class. His teacher, Anita Baten, has been struggling with Todd all year, with little success." To the right of the video player is a "Clips" and "Description" section. The description text reads: "After Todd has been diagnosed with ADHD by a treatment team at his school, his teacher follows through on a treatment plan to address his difficulties in the classroom. Leading ADHD expert Dr. Russell Barkley provides advice on creating successful interventions, and George J. DuPaul and Gary Stoner walk us through each step of the treatment approach. Watch as his teacher implements several simple changes in the classroom, leading to Todd getting along better with his classmates, scoring higher on quizzes and maintaining better focus throughout the day." Below the description are two green buttons: "DOWNLOAD MANUAL" and "MAKE CLIPS". At the bottom right, there is a partial view of a section titled "What else is in your".
